Sick Children

During the cold and flu season we make every effort to keep our center clean and sanitized so the children will not pass germs to each other. Research shows that fresh air is the best way to fight illness in a childcare setting. Germs cause illness, not cold air. Minimum standards require that the children go outside every day that weather permits. This does not leave anyone free to stay inside to watch children while the class is on the playground.

Be sure your child is healthy enough to participate in the day's activities.

Weather

The season of inclement weather is upon us. Please download the Remind 101 app and class sjcc1 to stay informed.
